Pony Foo launched in 2012.

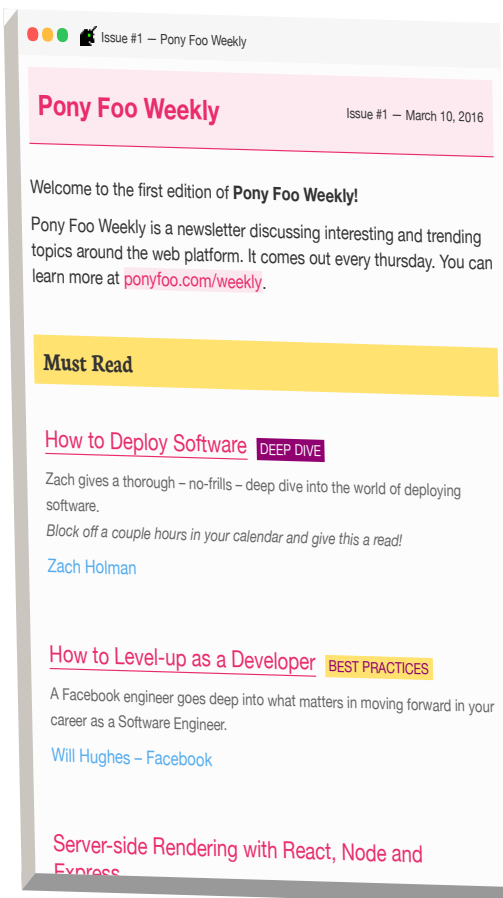

Pony Foo delivers fresh content every week to an audience of over 30,000 front-end engineers and developers. Our publications often contain practical insight & advice, how-to guides, performance analysis, exploration of library internals, and easily digestible interpretations of complex specifications — meant for a broader audience.

Today, Pony Foo houses a weekly newsletter, as well as a showcase for open-source projects, books, and conference presentations.

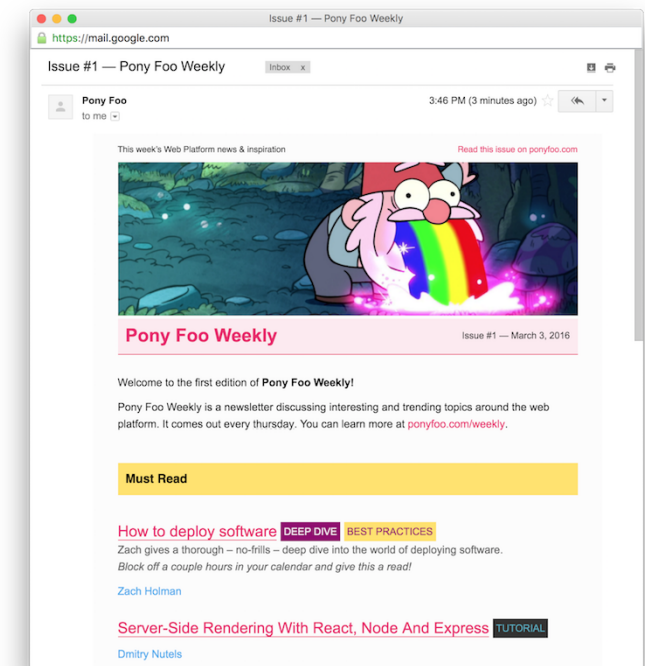

Pony Foo Weekly

The best content around the web — every week.

- ✓ A single email delivered every thursday
- ✓ Tailored by & for web platform engineers
- ✓ Inspirational & educational content
- ✓ Commentary providing additional insight
- ✓ Accessible via email, web, mobile, & RSS
- ✓ Highly targeted & relevant advertisement

Pony Foo Weekly Sponsorship Tiers

Primary Sponsorship

$60

A prominent link, along with a description, an image, and your company name. Links in this tier look just like the rest of our content, but are marked as sponsored content.

Guaranteed to be inserted within the top 8 links of any given newsletter issue.

Sponsored Link

$40

A link, along with a description, your company name, and a content type tag. Links in this tier look just like the rest of our content, but are marked as sponsored content.

Insertion position is not guaranteed. Sponsored links are scattered throughout each newsletter issue.

Job Listing

A link, along with a description, and your company name. Solely for companies seeking to offer jobs (full-time, part-time, or contract) or hiring-related services.

Job listings are grouped together around the middle of each newsletter issue.
